Great Jobs and Great Lives

Butler University

Great Jobs.
Great Lives.
Great Experiences.

Great Jobs: Workplace Engagement

Workplace engagement means employees are intellectually and emotionally connected with their organizations and workgroups because they are able to do what they're best at, they like what they do and they have someone who cares about their development at work. People who are engaged at work are more involved in and enthusiastic about their work.

Given the importance of establishing a course for students to pursue fulfilling and enriching careers, higher education institutions must examine these outcomes critically. Gallup's research also demonstrates that workplace engagement is an important driver of overall well-being, reinforcing the significance of these findings.

Great Lives: Well-Being

Well-being is not only about being happy or wealthy. It is about the interaction and interdependency between many aspects of life such as finding fulfillment in daily work and interactions, having strong social relationships and access to the resources people need, feeling financially secure, being physically healthy and taking part in a true community.

Gallup and Healthways developed the Gallup-Healthways Well-Being 5 View to measure these important aspects.

Great Experiences: Alumni Attachment

The Gallup-Purdue Index uncovers which college experiences and perceptions are related to greater gains in the workplace and in well-being. It measures graduates' current emotional attachment to their alma mater by adapting Gallup's research on customer engagement to assess graduates' perceptions of their colleges — retrospectively, with regard to their undergraduate experiences, as well as their views as current alumni.

Undergraduate Experience

Through linear regression, Gallup examined college experiences that were associated with the greatest likelihood of alumni thriving in well-being and workplace engagement, holding other factors constant. This analysis identified six critical experiences — three related to the kinds of support that students felt in college, and three to experiential learning — that are strongly associated with how graduates fare later in life.

Alumni Attachment

The Gallup-Purdue Index measures graduates' current emotional attachment to their alma mater by adapting Gallup's research on customer engagement to assess graduates' perceptions of their colleges — retrospectively, with regard to their undergraduate experiences, as well as their views as current alumni.

Gallup explores the connection between alumni and their alma maters by looking at their level of agreement with two questions: “[College name] was the perfect school for people like me” and “I can't imagine a world without [College name].” Graduates who strongly agree with both items are considered “emotionally attached” to their alma mater.

Well-Being

The Gallup-Healthways Well-Being Index asks a series of questions that gauge well-being in five elements:

- Purpose Well-Being: Liking what you do each day and being motivated to achieve your goals
- Social Well-Being: Having strong and supportive relationships and love in your life
- Financial Well-Being: Effectively managing your economic life to reduce stress and increase security
- Community Well-Being: The sense of engagement you have with the areas where you live, liking where you live, and feeling safe and having pride in your community
- Physical Well-Being: Having good health and enough energy to get things done on a daily basis

Gallup examines the individual levels of well-being as well as the difficult-to-reach pinnacle of well-being of thriving in all five elements — purpose, social, financial, community and physical.

Life Evaluation Index

The Cantril Self-Anchoring Scale is based on the following two questions:

1. Please imagine a ladder with steps numbered from zero at the bottom to 10 at the top. The top of the ladder represents the best possible life for you, and the bottom of the ladder represents the worst possible life for you. On which step of the ladder would you say you personally feel you stand at this time?
2. On which step do you think you will stand about five years from now?

National Comparison

For the purposes of this report, data from Butler University are compared with data collected from the national Gallup-Purdue Index study of college graduates. Some differences may exist between the national comparison points included in this report and national estimates that Gallup has previously released because this report focuses on graduates who received their undergraduate degrees from 1950–2015. Comparison groups included in this scorecard are:

- Gallup-Purdue Index National: Bachelor's degree holders surveyed via the national Gallup-Purdue Index which includes those who participated in the national study and reported they have a bachelor's degree only from a Title IV degree-granting four-year public, private, for-profit or nonprofit institution in the U.S. as defined by the U.S. Department of Education.
- Indiana Universities: Bachelor's degree holders surveyed via the national Gallup-Purdue Index who indicated that they obtained a bachelor's degree from a university located in Indiana.

Methodology

Results for the Butler University study are based on Web surveys conducted February 22–March 22, 2016 with a sample of 4,696 Butler University undergraduate degree alumni. The sample of alumni email addresses was provided by Butler University. Alumni were included in the study if the institution had an email address on file.

Results for the Gallup-Purdue Index, the national study used for comparison purposes, are based on Web surveys conducted December 16, 2014–June 29, 2015, with a random sample of 30,151 respondents with a bachelor's degree or higher, aged 18 and older, with Internet access, living in all 50 U.S. states and the District of Columbia.

The Gallup-Purdue Index sample was recruited via the Gallup Daily tracking survey. The Gallup Daily tracking survey sample includes national adults with a minimum quota of 50% cellphone respondents and 50% landline respondents, with additional minimum quotas by time zone within region. Landline and cellular telephone numbers are selected using RDD methods. Landline respondents are chosen at random within each household on the basis of which member had the most recent birthday. Gallup Daily tracking respondents with a college degree, who agreed to future contact, were invited to take the Gallup-Purdue Index survey online.

Gallup-Purdue Index interviews are conducted via the Web, in English only. Samples are weighted to correct for unequal selection probability and nonresponse. The data are weighted to match national demographics of gender, age, race, Hispanic ethnicity, education and region. Demographic weighting targets are based on the most recent Current Population Survey figures for the aged 18 and older U.S. bachelor's degree or higher population.

Methodology (continued)

All reported margins of sampling error for the Gallup-Purdue Index of all college graduates include the computed design effects for weighting.

For results based on the total sample of those with a bachelor's degree, the margin of sampling error is +/-0.9 percentage point at the 95% confidence level.

For results based on employee engagement of those with a bachelor's degree, the margin of sampling error is +/-1.1 percentage points at the 95% confidence level.

For results based on the sample of those with a bachelor's degree from an institution in Indiana, the margin of sampling error is +/-4.8 percentage points at the 95% confidence level.

For results based on employee engagement of those with a bachelor's degree from an institution in Indiana, the margin of sampling error is +/-6.4 percentage points at the 95% confidence level.

In addition to sampling error, question wording and practical difficulties in conducting surveys can introduce error or bias into the findings of public opinion polls.
